Education...

The percentage of people in the District of North Vancouver with a university degree or higher was 31.6%. Of the total population between 25 and 64 years old with postsecondary qualifications, the most common field of study was business, management and public administration with 23.8%. Agriculture, natural resources and conservation was the least common field of study with 1.4%. The most common field of study for males was architecture, engineering, and related technologies and for females the most common field was business, management and public administration.

- Percent with university degree or higher: 31.6%
- Percent with postsecondary non-degree: 33.0%
- Percent with high school certificate or equivalent: 24.6%
- Top postsecondary location of study: British Columbia
- Top field of study for males: architecture, engineering, related technologies
- Top field of study for females: business, management, and public administration
- Neighbourhood with the most percentage of university degree holders: Howe Point, 43.1%